How to use this kit

1. Print pages 3–5 a week ahead and fill them in together. Pin the safety checklist somewhere everyone will see it.

2. Shop using the list on page 4 — buy fireworks only from a registered seller, and check each box carries a CE or UKCA safety mark.

3. On the night, stick the Sparkler Station sign by your bucket of water, set out the hot chocolate labels, and hand out the kids' pages while you wait for it to get dark.

4. Going to a public display instead? Fire services recommend organised displays as the safest option — the menu, kids' pages and hot chocolate bar work just as well before or after.

PRINTING TIPS

Print at 100% / "actual size" on A4. Card stock (160–250gsm) works best for the sign, labels and bingo cards. Print the kids' pages as many times as you need for your own family.

In the UK, garden fireworks can only be sold to adults aged 18+, and shops without a year-round licence can only sell them in set periods (including 15 October – 10 November).

STAY SAFE

Firework Safety Checklist

Based on the UK Firework Code and fire-service advice

BEFORE

- [ ] Plan the display in daylight
- [ ] Read the instructions on every firework
- [ ] Check the minimum viewing distance on each pack (often 5m or 8m for garden fireworks)
- [ ] Keep fireworks in a closed box; use one at a time
- [ ] Bonfire well away from sheds, fences, trees & hedges
- [ ] Check bonfire piles for hedgehogs before lighting
- [ ] Pets inside with curtains closed

DURING

- [ ] Firework lead stays sober
- [ ] Light at arm's length with a taper, then stand well back
- [ ] Never go back to a lit firework
- [ ] Never put fireworks in pockets or throw them
- [ ] Aim rockets well away from people
- [ ] Keep naked flames & cigarettes away
- [ ] Never use petrol or paraffin on a bonfire

AFTER

- [ ] Used sparklers straight into the bucket of water
- [ ] Leave spent fireworks until the morning, then soak before binning
- [ ] Damp down the bonfire — never leave it burning unattended

KNOW THE RULES (ENGLAND, SCOTLAND & WALES)

· Fireworks must not be let off between 11pm and 7am — except Bonfire Night (midnight), and New Year's Eve, Diwali & Chinese New Year (1am).
· You must be 18 to buy garden fireworks.
· Breaking fireworks law can mean an on-the-spot fine of £90 and further penalties.
· If something goes wrong, call 999.

Rules differ in Northern Ireland and can change — check gov.uk or your local fire service before the night.

SPARKLER STATION

Sparkle Safely

- Gloves on before you light up
- One sparkler at a time
- Hold it at arm's length
- Never wave it near other people
- Finished? Straight into the bucket
- No sparklers for under-5s — glow sticks instead!

FOR KIDS

Remember, Remember

Why do we have fireworks on 5 November?

Over 400 years ago, in 1605, King James I ruled England. A small group of men were angry with the king and made a secret plan, called the Gunpowder Plot. They wanted to blow up the Houses of Parliament while the king was inside.

They hid barrels of gunpowder in a cellar underneath the House of Lords. One of the plotters, Guy Fawkes, was given the job of guarding it. But someone sent a warning letter, and on the night of 4–5 November 1605 Guy Fawkes was discovered in the cellar with the gunpowder. The plot failed!

People lit bonfires to celebrate that the king was safe, and a law was passed the next year to mark the day every year. That's why we still have bonfires and fireworks on 5 November.

Quick quiz

1. In which year was the Gunpowder Plot?

2. Who was the king at the time?

3. Which building did the plotters want to blow up?

4. Who was caught guarding the gunpowder?

5. What did people light to celebrate?

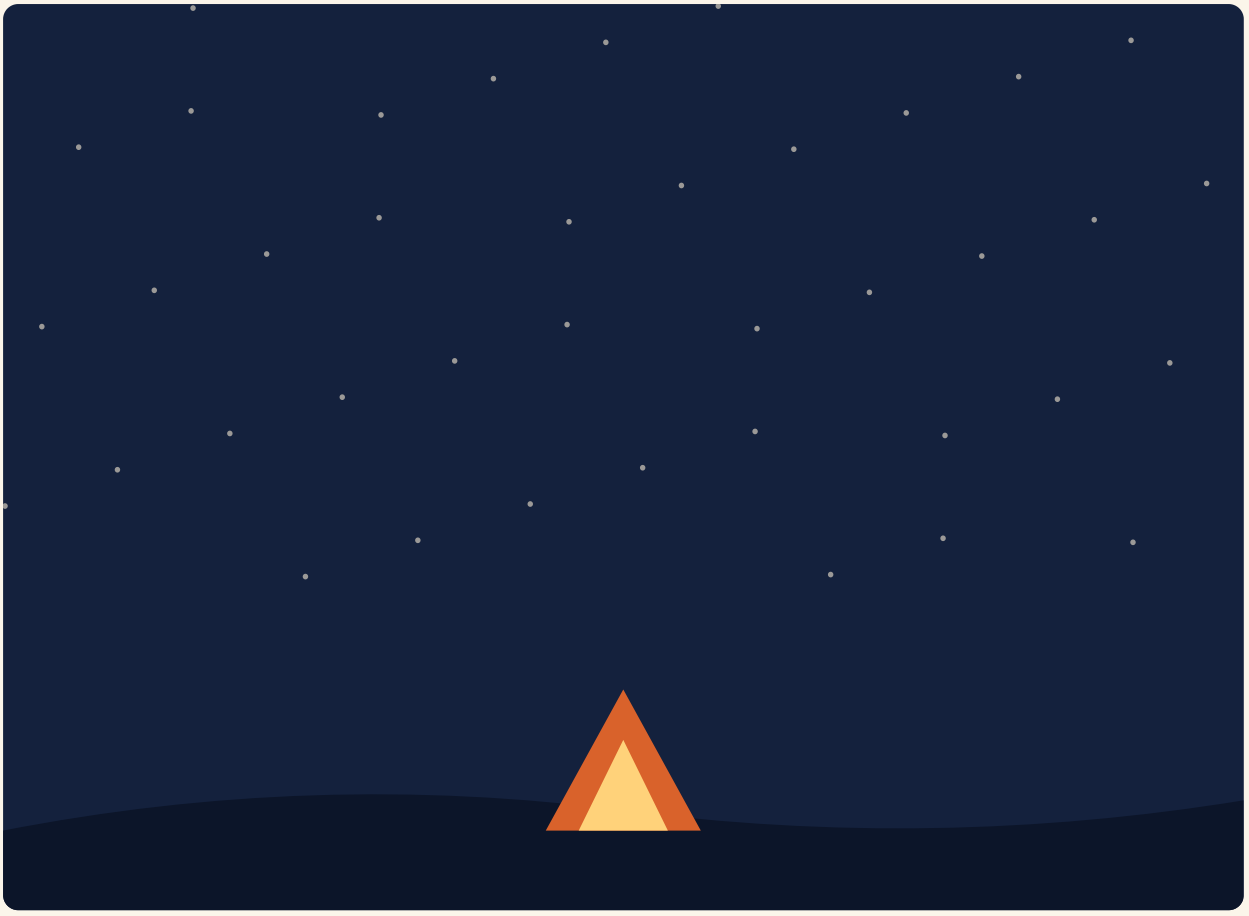

TALK ABOUT IT

Why do you think people still remember this story over 400 years later?
